GREEN MUSIC CENTER’S ALIGNMENT WITH SONOMA STATE UNIVERSITY’S MISSION

In support of the mission of Sonoma State University, the Green Music Center presents the most compelling artists of our time, investigates ideas, and provides access to diverse artistic experiences that educate, connect, and inspire Sonoma State University and surrounding North Bay communities.

GOAL 1: Serve as a primary public interface for the university.

Tactic 1: Present diverse and compelling programming year-round that invites multiple communities to engage

Metric 1: Between Summer 2018 and the 18/19 season, present at least 45 touring artists from a mix of genres in our venues on campus

Metric 2: Meet budgeted ticket revenue each year

Tactic 2: Partner with our resident ensembles, including the Santa Rosa Symphony and Sonoma Bach, to present their seasons and other performances

Metric 1: Provide hospitality, facilities, and front-of-house services for more than 7 weeks of Symphony season and single-performance programming in FY18/19

Metric 2: Provide hospitality, facilities, and front-of-house services for 5-7 weekends of Sonoma Bach programming in FY18/19

Tactic 3: Serve our community by making our facilities available to our stakeholders for impactful events

Metric 1: Rental activity revenue covers direct costs for all events in FY 18/19

Metric 2: All queries for rentals are considered and responded to in FY18/19

Tactic 4: Represent Sonoma State in programming and/or engagement with community partners on and off campus

Metric 1: Green Music Center development staff are all engaged in community activities in their role as fundraisers at least once per month

Metric 2: The Green Music Center uses an array of mass media outlets to reach audiences about our programming and events
GOAL 2: Maximize our potential as a university presenter by deeply impacting and engaging stakeholders.

Tactic 1: Provide state-of-the-art facilities that encourage learning
Student Success
Transformative Impact

Metric 1: Facilitate IT and facilities improvements in our halls and classrooms
Metric 2: Prioritize academic utilization of physical resources

Tactic 2: Engage presenting artists in residency activities on campus and in the community
Student Success
Academic Excellence & Innovation
Transformative Impact

Metric 1: 50% of all touring artists participate in residency activities in the 18/19 season
Metric 2: During the 18/19 school year, 35 courses from all Sonoma State University’s academic schools incorporate performing arts into their learning objectives and participate in residencies; an additional 120 courses from all schools bring students to performances
Metric 3: During the 18/19 school year, more than 3,000 tickets are distributed to students in association with our Arts Integration Program, with a 25% no-show rate
Metric 4: By the close of the 18/19 school year, staff survey tools indicate that 90% of the residency activities are rated an average of an "agree" or "strongly agree" with the following: participants are engaged; artist is making relevant connections to coursework and/or audience; audience is participating

Tactic 3: Provide meaningful student career development opportunities that are relevant to courses of study and areas of interest
Student Success
Academic Excellence & Innovation
Transformative Impact

Metric 1: In the 18/19 school year, employ 160 students in the areas of production, administration, marketing, facilities, front of house, hospitality, box office, and parking services
Metric 2: When relevant, all student employees have supervisors and mentors who help them establish and meet goals and expectations, and are evaluated before June 30, 2019

Tactic 4: Establish and build strong and authentic partnerships with individuals and organizations that produce advocates and entice broad participation in our programs
Transformative Impact

Metric 1: In 18/19, develop programmatic connections with 12 external partners
Metric 2: In 18/19, provide volunteer opportunities for non-students to engage as ushers, board members, or in other ways
Metric 3: Hold one "listening session" directed to getting feedback from the campus community in Spring 2019
Metric 4: Survey students regarding ways they may be interested in engaging with the Green Music center in the 19/20 school year
GOAL 3: Use our program and platform to work towards cultural equity, placing emphasis on marginalized and underrepresented voices, and ensuring programs are relevant in our multicultural world.
